Canadian Society of Aesthetic Specialty Nurses

Aesthetic nursing is a rapidly growing field. CSASN will provide the membership with opportunities to be professionally educated, trained and regulated to ensure patient safety in all aspects of aesthetic surgical and non-surgical procedures.

A membership to CSASN will help you to reach your professional goals

Mission

The mission of the Canadian Society of Aesthetic Specialty Nurses is to provide:

- current evidence-based education
- the highest standards to protect the public in ensuring their safety
- forums to promote professional growth and personal advancement for nurses whose primary focus is in aesthetic medicine

Objectives

- to provide a forum and communication tool to inform and educate aesthetic specialty nurses on surgical and non-surgical aesthetic treatments or procedures
- to unite the nursing members to establish guidelines for professional standards, promoting ethical practice, and protecting the status of the profession.
- to promote and advance the qualifications and professional practice of aesthetic specialty nursing

Benefits of Membership

- Reduced rates to attend national and regional meetings
- Networking opportunities
- Keeping up to date on current trends and technologies
- Resource center for information on plastic surgery issues, needs and employment opportunities
- Access to contact information regarding medical suppliers and vendors
- Access to educational opportunities such as workshops, journal clubs
- Confidential email access to other members
- Advancement into a leadership role

Membership Qualifications

- Nurse Practitioner (NP), Registered Nurse (RN) or Registered Practical Nurse (RPN) who has a current certificate of competence from their provincial college and upholds the philosophy of CSASN.
- NP who is working in the field of aesthetic medicine
- RN / RPN working with Core Specialists (Plastics, dermatology, ENT, ophthalmology)
- RN / RPN working with a non-core specialist upon provision of documentation that the Medical Director has been trained in aesthetic medicine.
